

Guidelines and objectives of our industrial safety policy

An efficient company is also a safe company. Our declared aim is the prevention of hazards, the qualification of our employees as well as a safe and ergonomic work environment for the protection of health. This is also an integral part of our company policy.

Industrial safety is integrated in all relevant processes of the company, which ensures a safe and healthy work environment.

The responsibility of each employee for the industrial safety in his department is an important part of daily work. This is supported by:

- risk assessments;
- working time analyses;
- employee surveys;
- training concepts;
- safety instructions;
- preventive medical examinations;
- determination of technical, organisational and personal protective measures;
- systematic assessment of workplaces;
- optimisation of the buildings and plant planning for the planning of workplaces;
- company health measures.

We request our contractual partners, in particular our suppliers to act in an identical responsible way.

Reuth, 7th June 2018

Managing Director
Röckelein GmbH